ITP Continuous Development - "Innovative Technology in Training" (2 CPD Hour)
23rd Anniversary Event

Employee training remains an essential component of the HR function. But as training demands increase, audience expectations shift and competitive pressures accelerate. In this environment, training and development professionals must find new ways to engage participants and improve retention.

Training technology can give instructors the tools they need to measurably improve employee engagement and results. Trainers can use technology to enhance their efforts to create an informed, engaged and knowledgeable workforce in order to obtain unbeatable competitive advantage. A visit to Electrical and Mechanical Services Department (EMSD) has been arranged in which EMSD will share with us how they apply new technology in their training systems and initiatives.

Date : May 24, 2019 (Friday)
